Paris, Oct. 29.—The news of Garibaldi's victory over the forces of the Pope at Monte Rondo, have been confirmed by telegraph. The General displayed great personal daring during the engagement—his soldlers capturing all the pontifical force, made up of servants, and General Dearmes from Rome, but it seems that the government authorities at once released them. The democratic papers are firm in their opposition of the course of the executive, and loud in their condemnation of the idea of foreign intervention in Rome. There is much popular disaffection produced, mainly by the vagueness of the King's proclamation, from the fact that the royal manifesto contains no allusions or reference to the matter of French intervention, and how it should meet it.

The Arapahoes will make a separate treaty and, together with the Apaches, dissolve their former connection with the Cheyennes, on account of the hostile attitude of the latter to the whites. All the tribes here, except the Cheyennes, will hold a council on the 28th, and attempt to renew the friendly relations with each other, and return the stolen horses. The Cheyennes have not arrived yet, and some suspect bad motives on their part, while others think all will come out right. They claim that they have not finished their red man ceremonles yet and ask two days longer time. The commissioners have already waited thirteen days on this tribe and have got tired. They will remain till Monday, the 28th, when they will leave if the Cheyennes are not here.
